musically, port-royal are located at the border of electronica, ambient and post-rock, but with their second album they also make a first step towards dance music - beautiful melodies, captivating beats and a pleasantly drowning ocean of sound.

at the moment, they are working on their third album and are touring across europe. last summer, they toured italy supporting blonde redhead. Their most recent release is the remix album of their debut, entitled "flared up", on resonant records, including remixers such as ulrich schnauss, f.s. blumm, judith juillerat and manual.
